Mission and Values

Mission Statement

Creighton is a Catholic and Jesuit comprehensive university committed to excellence in its selected undergraduate, graduate and professional programs.

As Catholic, Creighton is dedicated to the pursuit of truth in all its forms and is guided by the living tradition of the Catholic Church.

As Jesuit, Creighton participates in the tradition of the Society of Jesus, which provides an integrating vision of the world that arises out of a knowledge and love of Jesus Christ.

As comprehensive, Creighton's education embraces several colleges and professional schools and is directed to the intellectual, social, spiritual, physical and recreational aspects of students' lives and to the promotion of justice.

Creighton exists for students and learning. Members of the Creighton community are challenged to reflect on transcendent values, including their relationship with God, in an atmosphere of freedom of inquiry, belief and religious worship. Service to others, the importance of family life, the inalienable worth of each individual and appreciation of ethnic and cultural diversity are core values of Creighton.

Creighton faculty members conduct research to enhance teaching, to contribute to the betterment of society and to discover new knowledge. Faculty and staff stimulate critical and creative thinking and provide ethical perspectives for dealing with an increasingly complex world.

Values

Magis

Literally translated, magis means “more” in a sense of greater or better. It denotes a transcendence, or “rising above or beyond normal expectations.” Individuals who have been transformed by magis in their lives will put their hands and minds to work in a constant pursuit of a greater and common good.

Women and men for and with others

Instead of living just for oneself, live for others. This value manifests as selflessness in action. It describes a thriving culture with many diverse people working together, sharing, volunteering, reflecting, pursuing justice and having concern for anyone who is marginalized. When all are working for and with others, all are equal.

Cura personalis

Translated, this means care for the individual person. It means respecting each person as a child of God along with all of God's creation—regardless of creed or background. It challenges us to dig deeper to understand each person's gifts, challenges and needs.

Unity of heart, mind and soul

We believe in developing not just our students' professional skills, but the whole person and integrating all aspects of their lives into practice. On our campus, heart, mind and soul are never separate. They work together as a personal triumvirate: all three are essential to becoming one's strongest self.

Ad maiorem Dei gloriam

Translated: “For the greater glory of God.” It is a central theme of the Ignatian tradition that Creighton has embraced deeply. This underlying philosophy is benevolent. Caring. Unshakable. Loving. Everything we pursue at Creighton is about more than becoming greater human beings; it is about serving as a dynamic participant in causes greater than our own—starting with our surrounding communities and those who are in need.

Finding God in all things

Life has its trials. But it is also an engagement with a divine experience—a constant and conscious exploration of what's inherently good all around us and how we can better ourselves. This Jesuit value speaks of the importance of embracing life with open arms.

Forming and educating agents of change

At Creighton, students boldly explore their future potential. They are asked to envision where they see themselves as future leaders. Then our education answers the challenge through thousands of internship opportunities, connections to job networks and untold service openings. We help transform students' goals and plans into actions that make a positive difference worldwide.

Standards of Conduct

The Creighton University community is based on a Jesuit, Catholic Jesuit tradition and is committed to supporting the intrinsic value of each human being. This tradition involves striving to create a human community influenced by the laws of justice and love, complete with respect and concern for all persons as children of God. The Creighton University community is dedicated to the promotion of values consistent with personal and academic excellence.

Choosing to join this community, whether as a student, faculty or staff, obligates you to act in a manner that is consistent with these commitments. Joining the Creighton University community evidences your acceptance of these commitments and agreement to strive for their achievement. Commitment to living by these principles means that you will endeavor to:

1. Act with professional, academic and personal integrity.

Consistent with this principle is conduct in accord with the academic honesty policy of the University, other University policies that foster a human community of justice, respect and concern, and the code of ethics of your foreseen profession. This principle challenges you to shape a personal code of positive values, to live a healthy, balanced lifestyle and to discover and embrace the responsibilities of your freedom, intelligence and intrinsic worth. Inconsistent with this principle are all forms of dishonesty, excuse-making, failure to take responsibility for your behavior, infidelity or disloyalty in personal relationships and violations of the code of ethics of your foreseen profession.

2. Respect and promote the dignity of all persons.

Consistent with this principle is growing in understanding of different cultures and groups, resolving conflicts fairly, appreciating people's differences and seeking truths and values essential to human life and community. This principle challenges you to refrain from actions that threaten or discourage the freedom, personal safety and respect that all individuals deserve. Inconsistent with this principle are actions that compromise or demean the intrinsic worth of individuals or groups. All forms of racism, sexism, pornography, lewd behavior, harassment, discrimination, intimidation, taunting, insult, physical harm and discrimination are inconsistent with this principle.

3. Respect the policies of the Creighton University community and the rights of its members both on and off campus, as well as the just laws of the civic community and the rights of its members.

Consistent with this principle is the affirmative support for equal rights and opportunities for all members of the Creighton University community, realizing that you are a member of a larger community, with a responsibility to understand diverse societal issues and being a responsible participant in the civic and Creighton community. Inconsistent with this principle are actions that are illegal and that violate another's right to move about freely and securely, to live and learn in a community where members are secure in their property and person, to express themselves appropriately and to enjoy privacy.

4. Support the personal, professional, academic and vocational development of the members of the Creighton University community.

Consistent with this principle are actions that are compassionate and considerate of the needs and well-being of others and that encourage the development of our moral, spiritual, intellectual, emotional, personal and vocational abilities. Inconsistent with this principle are actions that are insensitive, inhospitable, spiteful or which unjustly or arbitrarily inhibit another's ability to securely pursue goals in accord with the development of their abilities.

Creighton Comprehensive Student Record

The Creighton Comprehensive Student Record (CCSR) is an optional but strongly encouraged co-curricular transcript created to depict a student's holistic experience at Creighton. While academic transcripts tell a student's academic story, the CCSR will provide additional information about a student's entire experience and skills obtained while at Creighton. Contact ccsr@creighton.edu or visit studentlife.creighton.edu/ccsr to learn more.

CCSR participants will engage in experiences in the following categories:

Wellbeing: The Jesuit value of cura personalis challenges us to be concerned with the mind, body and spirit of our students. Through these experiences, students will develop life skills that will foster a sense of wellbeing, personal integrity, resiliency and adaptability.

Kinship: When we are in kinship with one another, we affirm the gifts of the individual and move from tolerance to acceptance. Through these experiences, students will develop and promote respectful relationships and an inclusive environment which celebrates the commonalities and uniquenesses of each person.

Leadership and Service: Leadership within the Ignatian tradition is a lifelong process that is reflective and focused in serving others. Through these experiences students will develop collaboration skills to achieve a shared purpose. Students will also demonstrate the value of service that is for and with others.

Reflection and Discernment: When hearts and minds are in unity, the whole person is engaged. Through these experiences, students will learn to demonstrate awareness of personal and others' gifts and reflect upon how their gifts can serve others.

Courageous Learning: Creighton students are not called simply to consume knowledge, but to do so in a critical manner. Through these experiences, students will integrate knowledge and experiences that will help them engage the world in a purposeful way.

Multidimensional Wellness

Wellness is the multidimensional awareness and practice of cura personalis, or "care for the individual person," to achieve a healthy and balanced lifestyle. Your goal is to find and pursue your passion, and our goal is to help you achieve the lifestyle that will allow you to do so. To accomplish this, the Division of Student Life encourages students to participate in activities that cultivate the following dimensions of wellness:

Spiritual: Expanding a sense of purpose and meaning in life

Intellectual: Recognizing creative abilities and finding ways to expand knowledge and skills

Social: Developing a sense of connection, belonging and a well-developed support system

Physical: Recognizing the need for physical activity, healthy foods and sleep

Environmental: Good health by occupying pleasant, stimulating environments

Emotional: Coping effectively with life and creating satisfying relationships

Financial: Satisfaction with current and future financial situations

Occupational: Personal satisfaction and enrichment from one's work.

Creighton Cupboard

While food insecurity isn't always easily noticeable, it's an issue that impacts a significant number of college students. According to a study by the University of Wisconsin HOPE Lab, 36 percent of students at four-year institutions identify as having "low" (reduced quality, variety or desirability of diet) or "very low" (multiple indications of disrupted eating and reduced food intake) food security.

To combat food insecurity at Creighton, the Creighton Cupboard provides complete meals for undergraduate, graduate and professional students who identify as food insecure. The pantry is supported by Division of Student Life staff and student employees. The Cupboard is one of more than 650 on-campus food pantries in the United States, according to the College and University Food Bank Alliance.

To sign up to receive meals, find additional resources, make a donation or learn how to register a food drive, visit creighton.edu/cupboard.

Office of Community Standards and Wellbeing

Contact:
Creighton Hall
Suite 224
402.280.2775
studentlife.creighton.edu/ocsw

Mission

The Office of Community Standards and Wellbeing (OCSW) exists to enhance the quality of the student experience outside of the classroom and to integrate those experiences with their academic learning. To accomplish this mission, the office has five primary learning outcomes. Through the work of the OCSW, students will be able to:

- Articulate Creighton's Code of Conduct as outlined in the Student Handbook.
- Demonstrate congruence between their actions, their personal values and Creighton's Jesuit values and charisms.
- Examine how their actions impact their individual success in and out of the classroom, as well as in their communities.
- Think critically about their own choices and the impact those may have on Creighton and other communities.
- Develop skills and strategies to allow them to better model the Code of Conduct in the future.

The OCSW is responsible for coordinating policies and procedures concerning student conduct and the conduct process, as outlined in the Creighton Student Handbook. Students are expected to play an active and respectful role in community life at Creighton and adhere to the Student Code of Conduct. Students are encouraged to make responsible decisions in their lives inside and outside of the classroom. The Student Code of Conduct applies to all Creighton students regardless of whether the behavior(s) occurred on or off campus.

Philosophy

The OCSW fosters an environment of learning from experience and moving beyond negative choices. Students are provided with the resources and education needed to respect the dignity of all persons, the policies of the Creighton University community and the rights of its members both on and off campus, in addition to the just laws of the civic community and the rights of its members.

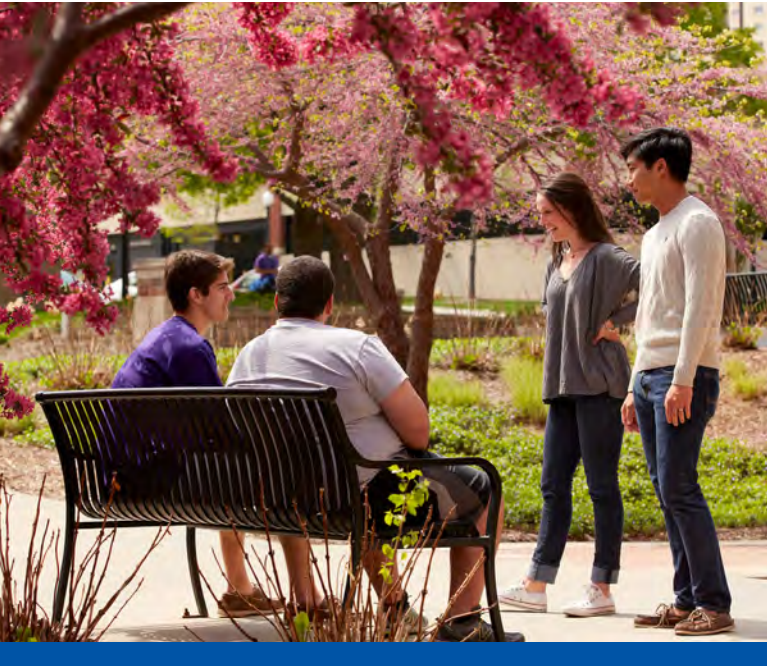

The conduct process is built on the foundation that the process should be educational and helpful to the student's development. The OCSW aims to support students as they work through the sometimes uncomfortable process of making choices that better reflect the personal and communal values articulated by the Jesuit values central to the mission of the University.

Process

Any student who is documented for an alleged violation of the Standards of Conduct will participate in the behavioral misconduct process to determine an appropriate outcome. This discipline process is fully outlined in the Creighton University Student Handbook. Students should refer to the Creighton University Student Handbook for specific details regarding the process.

Outcomes

The OCSW believes that students who choose to violate the Standards of Conduct have an obligation to reconcile the fact that they also violated their own integrity and the integrity of the Creighton community. Any student who is found responsible for violating the Standards of Conduct will receive a set of outcomes intended to help them complete that process of reconciliation. Additional information regarding outcomes can be found in the Creighton University Student Handbook.

Community Standards Board

The Community Standards Board provides opportunities for leadership and service in addition to developing lifelong skills in facilitating and resolving conflicts, as well as promoting civility and citizenship within the University community. Membership is open to all Creighton students in good standing with the University, via an application process.

The purpose of the board is to conduct hearings on alleged infractions of University rules and provide appropriate outcomes in matters involving non-academic matters where it is anticipated that a student infraction may result in a warning or reprimand. The hearing is not a formal process such as a civil or criminal trial but an educational endeavor, which deals with alleged behavioral misconduct.

Discipline is educational, and for that reason, formal rules of evidence shall not apply in disciplinary hearings. In addition, members of the board will function as a programming board for the OCSW. As a programming entity, they will work to promote the OCSW's four pillars: integrity, dignity, community and development.

Fraternity and Sorority Life Standards Board

The Fraternity and Sorority Standards Board may be granted authority to adjudicate specific types of cases involving fraternity and sorority organizations. The board is advised by the assistant director for Fraternity and Sorority Life and the assistant director of the Office of Community Standards and Wellbeing.

For hearings, quorum will consist of five voting members with representatives from Panhellenic Council chapters, Interfraternity Council chapters, and representatives from multicultural Greek organizations (only if applications are received from these organizations), the vice president of judicial affairs for the Interfraternity Council, and the vice president of judicial affairs for the Panhellenic Council. The board may hear certain disciplinary cases involving fraternity and sorority organizations at the request of the advisor(s) and with the approval of the senior director of the Office of Community Standards and Wellbeing in lieu of a private decision.

Peer Education at Creighton (PEAC)

The mission of PEAC is to promote healthy living and responsible decision-making among Creighton students by providing preventative health education and peer support. PEAC is a dedicated group of students who support the academic mission of the University by promoting wellness and "peak performance" through healthy lifestyle choices.

Peer educators work on various teams to help educate and spread awareness about health and wellness issues central to Creighton students' college experience.

Membership in the group is decided based on a submitted application. For more information, contact Sue Weston at susanweston@creighton.edu.

Recreation and Wellness

Centered on Wellness

The Department of Recreation and Wellness supports healthy lifestyles through quality programs, services and facilities. To achieve cura personalis—care for the whole person—the department facilitates eight dimensions of wellness: emotional, physical, occupational, environmental, financial, spiritual, social and intellectual.

Physical activity and connections with your peers are essential to holistic wellness, and Recreation and Wellness is proud to offer a variety of sports, fitness and wellness programs that provide both. Whether you want focus and relaxation through yoga, a high-intensity TRX workout, a chance to play the sports you love or a crash course on healthy meal preparation, you'll find what you're looking for.

Students, faculty and staff are all eligible to participate in as many intramural competitions as desired with a semester-long intramural pass.

Club Sports offer a high level of competition among teammates and against neighboring institutions. Last year, nearly 500 students participated on sport club teams. Time and travel commitments vary by clubs, who participate in local, regional and national intercollegiate competitions.

Residential Life and Housing

Department of Residential Life

Residential Experience

Each phase of living on campus at Creighton involves asking students intentional questions about themselves, their relationship to others and how to be impactful leaders within their community.

Hall Staff

Residential student staff are among the top student leaders on campus. These juniors and seniors live in the halls to interact with, mentor and care for freshmen and sophomore students. Additionally, each residence hall is supervised by a live-in student affairs professional. Each professional has earned a master's degree and has experience and extensive training in the field.

Inter Residence Hall Government

The Inter Residence Hall Government (IRHG) is the voice for all students living on campus. IRHG provides an excellent opportunity for students to gain valuable leadership experience by advocating for change, putting on events for the community, and writing legislation for facilities or policy changes.

Academic Success Centers

Located in each first year residence hall, Academic Success Centers provide a permanent home base for Academic Success Peer Mentors, senior students dedicated to helping first year-students make a smooth transition to Creighton academics. Academic Success Peer Mentors know how to address the stresses of first-year living because they learned to navigate it themselves. They're passionate about supporting students. Resources offered include schedule making, study habits, tutoring, programming and much more.

Living Learning Communities

The Freshmen Leadership Program (FLP) focuses on challenging students to grow as leaders, to understand what leadership means to them and to implement leadership skills learned across campus and the city.

The Honors Community provides students a challenging and innovative academic alternative to Creighton's Magis Core, with individualized attention from top faculty mentors.

The Cortina Living-Learning Community prepares students to connect their passion for social justice with their academic and future goals by challenging them to investigate social inequalities and difficult realities.

Housing and Auxiliary Services

Creating Excellent Environments

When you live on campus, your Creighton experience becomes more than an academic adventure. You set yourself on a path for personal growth, making invaluable connections and acquiring leadership skills. Housing and Auxiliary Services enhances the student experience by creating quality environments—from residence halls to student centers—for all of these interactions.

Housing assignments for freshman, sophomores and upperclassmen are coordinated by Housing and Auxiliary Services, and the Housing and Auxiliary Services team also processes more than 10,000 event requests per year, working with student organizations and campus partners to make sure Creighton's spaces are set up for memorable and impactful events.

Freshman Residence Halls

Deglman Hall

Deglman Hall is known for building community in its spacious basement recreation area.

- Co-ed freshman hall

Discover. Develop. Deliver.

As educators, the Student Leadership and Involvement Center (SLIC) staff share their gifts and talents to foster student growth and development. Students are challenged to develop, understand and reflect upon their values, leadership skills and goals.

In engaging with the SLIC, students and staff will:

- Seek excellence from themselves and others.
- Seek and model balanced integration of academic, social, recreational and spiritual involvement.
- Respect and celebrate the commonalities and uniqueness of all.
- Impact social change through education, reflection and service that is for and with others.
- Share their gifts with our communities for the greater glory of God.

Student Clubs

Join one of more than 200 student clubs at Creighton, or start your own. Come to the Skutt Shutdown in August or the Winter Involvement Fair in February to learn more about student clubs. You can also find contact information for all clubs at cuinvolved.creighton.edu.

To start a new organization, you'll need four full-time students interested in joining, a faculty or staff moderator, a mission statement, a constitution and a calendar of proposed events for the first semester. You'll need to set up a meeting with the assistant director of the SLIC and complete the new student organization form on CU Involved. Once you've submitted your application, it will be reviewed by the Student Organization Review Committee.

CU Involved

CU Involved is an online resource that allows you to find information on the 200+ student organizations and departments on campus.

On the home page, you'll find events happening around campus. Each student organization can create and customize its own page.

Tools for organizations include event registration, attendance tracking, online elections, electronic forms, roster management, document storage and a messaging system.

Log in today at cuinvolved.creighton.edu to learn more about the organizations available on campus.

Fraternity and Sorority Life

The Fraternity and Sorority Life experience offers a chance to find your place on campus through a breadth of leadership opportunities. Creighton values a diverse, well-rounded student body and expects that you'll be positively influenced by your fraternity or sorority experience, but not defined by it. With 44 percent of Creighton undergraduates involved, fraternities and sororities are popular outlets for personal growth. Fraternity and Sorority organizations place a high value on academics (consistently averaging a higher GPA than the rest of campus) and demonstrate a strong commitment to community service. Last year, fraternities and sororities completed more than 20,000 community service hours and raised over $200,000 for philanthropic causes.

CU After Dark

CU After Dark programming offers students fun, unique and free programming on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings. The program allows students to interact with an array of campus organizations and departments and provides a great opportunity to meet new people and build relationships.

CliftonStrengths for Students

As part of the first-year experience at Creighton, all students are provided the opportunity to take the CliftonStrengths for Students assessment. Created by Gallup, CliftonStrengths identifies your top five strengths (from a list of 34 total strengths). These strengths highlight the abilities by which you're naturally inclined to succeed—an exciting learning opportunity as you become more involved in the Creighton community. Strengths will be integrated into many events, including a workshop in February.

Family Weekend

Family Weekend is an excellent time for families to come and learn about a student's new home at Creighton. Families can attend events on and off campus to become more familiar with the Creighton community and the greater Omaha community. These include athletic events, a community barbecue, networking with Creighton professionals and the opportunity to meet other families of current students.

The Creighton EDGE

Education in the Jesuit tradition

Development of God-given talents

Growth of intellectual, cultural and global perspective

Engaged spirit and sense of purpose

The Creighton EDGE Program is designed to provide Creighton students with a holistic approach to academic success, the pursuit of advanced studies in graduate and professional school, and career planning. Features of the EDGE include alumni networking, mentoring, shadowing and portfolio-building internship opportunities. The EDGE also provides individual and group tutoring, academic coaching, academic counseling and assistance with any issues that could impact a student's ability to be academically successful at Creighton.

Academic Success

Academic Success programs and services focus on academic support, student monitoring and retention, and the transition to college. Students are encouraged to take advantage of:

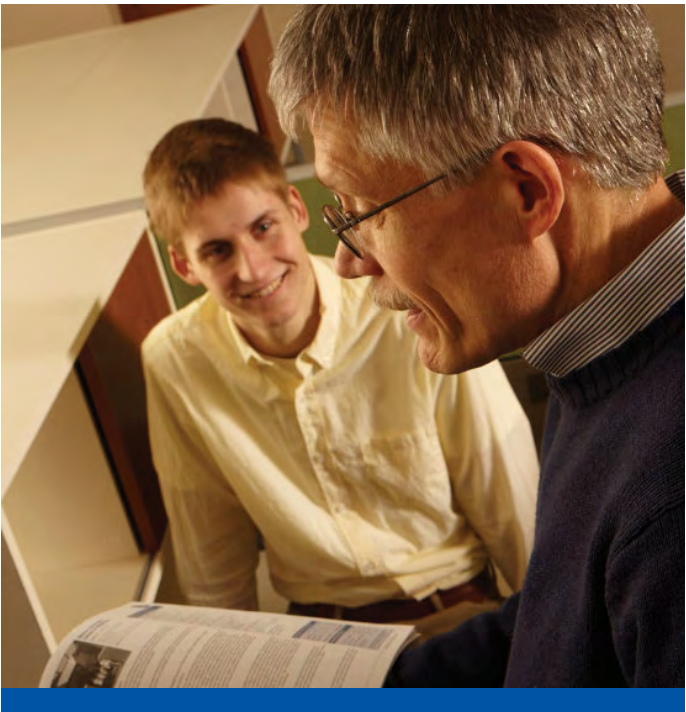

- A nationally certified tutoring program, offering drop-in math, biology and chemistry tutoring; appointment-based individual tutoring for most subjects; and collaborative learning sessions.
- Individualized academic counseling and coaching, where students learn tips and strategies appropriate for their learning styles and personal academic goals.
- Workshops and seminars that teach strategies to help students understand and manage the academic rigor of Creighton. One of the more popular options is the Hippocampus Success Seminar, a fun and interactive four-night series that introduces students to the way the mind works as it relates to learning and success at Creighton. Additionally, students with ADHD may benefit from the EDGE Advantage, a weekly seminar that shares tips and resources to help students navigate the transition to college. Other workshops focus on time management, test anxiety, exam prep and other fundamental study skills.
- Academic Strategy Courses, which are credit-bearing courses (EDGE® 120 and EDGE® 130) designed to help students understand their strengths and areas for improvement as learners.

Advising

The Ratio Studiorum Program (RSP) is Creighton's academic advising and orientation program for freshmen and sophomores. It introduces students to the requirements, challenges and rewards of life at Creighton. RSP 100 is taught by faculty advisors, who also serve as first- and second-year academic advisors and assist with the development of a student's four-year academic plan. Students examine such topics as Creighton's Jesuit heritage and values, academic integrity and the core curriculum. Reading, writing and class discussion entertain issues of self-exploration and self-discovery.

Pre-health advising through the EDGE offers students interested in health care careers one-on-one advising regarding all aspects of preparing to apply to a professional school. Additionally, students receive guidance on applicable resources and experiences. Led by the Director of Pre-Health Advising, faculty and professional advisors are readily available to assist students.

Pre-Law Advising provides students interested in legal careers with one-on-one advising to gain a better understanding of law, the legal profession and the myriad of related career opportunities. Pre-Law Advising also helps students discern a career in law, improve their application profile, and find shadowing and mentoring opportunities with legal professionals. Both faculty and professional advisors are readily available to assist students.

Learning Communities

Learning communities allow students with shared academic interests and experiences to come together to discern options in pre-professional study. The seminars and co-curricular activities are designed and offered through the EDGE to strengthen the candidacy of Creighton students as they prepare for the graduate/professional school application process. All learning communities provide students with opportunities for mentoring, shadowing and networking with pre-professional students, faculty and alumni.

John P. Fahey Career Center

The John P. Fahey Career Center is an integral part of the Creighton EDGE®. It provides students with opportunities to develop relationships with employers, career advising, resume and cover letter writing, interview preparation and job/internship guidance. Creighton faculty, staff and administrators are provided programming and assistance with graduate and professional school options and planning.

Tips and Suggestions for Students and Families

The Career Center has much to offer students and families, including:

- Career advisors who listen to questions and concerns about their academic and career journeys
- Career and interest assessments to assess personal skills, values, interests and potential occupations
- Online and print resources describing careers, skills, interests, majors, courses required and more
- Industry information that describes and helps visualize various companies and occupations
- Online resources to give the most up-to-date graduate and professional school and career information

Students today face the challenge of entering a very difficult, constantly changing working environment. How can families help them with their decisions?

- Identify skills. What are they good at? What do they excel in?
- Explore goals and interests. What would they like to do? What are their interests? Leisure-time activities and hobbies may lead to some exciting career possibilities.
- Think long-term. What quality experience (internships, part-time jobs) would enhance a resume and provide valuable insight and experience?

Choosing the right career can be a daunting process. With an unlimited array of possibilities, students may have difficulty deciding the best path. Questions to consider range from “Has my interest in this area decreased, and should I change my direction?” to “I like so many areas. It’s hard to decide.” Change is the only constant. Be prepared for many questions and be involved in your student’s college life. Depending on the situation, you may suggest academic advising, career counseling or personal counseling for assistance.

Through the cooperative efforts of the nine colleges and schools of Creighton, CSU is entrusted to serve and advocate for the student body, and it is dedicated to the enhancement of the educational, social and cultural environments on campus.

Board of Representatives: Student representatives of each respective college work together to enact change through legislation. Four ad hoc committees focus on issues pertinent to students: Campus Relations, Diversity Inclusion and Outreach, Sustainability, and Visibility and Marketing—each a great way to effect tangible change on campus.

Appropriations Committee: The Appropriations Committee is made up of seven students who make decisions on the allocation of funding to student organizations—an amazing opportunity to ensure the success of student organizational efforts.

Fellows: The CSU Fellows program provides a specialized CSU education to first-year students. Students develop skills in leadership and learn about making an impact at Creighton.

Program Board: The CSU Program Board strives to bring quality programs to campus. Program Board is committed to providing multicultural, social, recreational, educational and entertaining programs that align with Creighton University's mission statement. Events include Wednesdays After Class (WAC), Fallapalooza, Spring Fling, excursions across the Omaha area, late-night events and more.

Connecting to Campus Resources

Students at Creighton have access to a wealth of online resources. Registering for classes on the NEST and submitting papers on BlueLine are just two examples of the tools available. All students receive a NetID and should set up their password prior to arriving on campus. The NetID and password allow access to the Creighton systems every student needs. Always keep your password secret and never include it in written communication or email.

Computers are critical components of campus life. Besides helping develop useful skills, having a computer is a significant daily convenience for personal and academic pursuits. This is especially true toward the end of semester when demands upon public computer labs are high. It's strongly recommended that you bring a computer with you. But if that's not an option, there are computer labs in residence halls, libraries and other buildings around campus. For a complete list of computer labs, see doit.creighton.edu/student-services/computer-labs.

Should you need to purchase a computer before coming to Creighton, the University has an agreement with both Apple® and GovConnection for discounted purchases of Apple® and Windows computers. You can view your purchasing options at: doit.creighton.edu/computing-printing/purchase-computer-students.

You may also visit iJay, the Apple® Authorized Campus Store, in the Mike and Josie Harper Center (or online at creighton.edu/ijay).

Bringing a Computer to Creighton

While Creighton doesn't recommend one laptop over another, general guidelines for minimum specifications are provided:

Minimum Computing Standards:

Processor: Intel Core i3, i5, i7, or current AMD equivalent

Operating System: Microsoft Windows 7 or above, Macintosh OS X 10.9 (Mavericks) or above

Memory: 4GB of RAM or more

Hard Drive: 160GB of space or more with an external backup drive of at least 500GB

Connectivity: Wireless 802.11 a/g/n

General Expectations:

It is expected that students using computer technology:

1. Not give out their Blue passwords to anyone
2. Bring system restore discs and other necessary media to assist system repairs
3. Meet campus standards for network use
4. Have licensed software and proof of license
5. Make regular backups of their data
6. Keep their computers up-to-date and secure
7. Are familiar with and adhere to posted computing policies: doit.creighton.edu/network-security/security/doit-security-policies.

Additional Resources:

All full-time students now have access to Microsoft Office for free on up to five devices. For more details, visit: doit.creighton.edu/o365-update.

Additionally, Microsoft Windows and other software offerings are available for students to download at a significantly reduced price. For more information, please visit: creighton.edu/doit/software/microsoft/index.php.

Wireless Networking:

Creighton is listed as one of Intel's top 50 wireless universities in the country. Wireless is available across campus in public spaces, residence halls and classrooms. Notebook computers must have an 802.11 a/g/n wireless card to access the wireless network. Please visit the IT website at doit.creighton.edu/network-security-services for additional information.

The website features instructions for enabling connection to Creighton's wireless network. If you meet the required minimum criteria and are unable to connect, contact the Service Desk to schedule an appointment. If the cause of the issue is hardware-related, the owner is responsible for all repairs.

BluePrint:

BluePrint is Creighton's student print solution. Students may print, copy or scan from a Creighton email account, web browser or print driver. Cost varies by service. To review costs and get started printing, see doit.creighton.edu/computing-printing-services/blueprint.

Computer Service and Repair:

It is recommended that students purchase extended warranty service with all computer purchases (both Apple® and Windows). Accidental damage protection is strongly recommended if offered.

The first place to check for any technical question is the Service Desk, where full-time analysts (including Apple® Certified Service Technicians) provide guidance and support on any technology issues that arise. Questions may be sent to doit4students@creighton.edu. Visit doit.creighton.edu for more information.

The website is also a resource for common support issues.

Please note that the division does provide virus or malware cleaning and some repair services on personal property, but students are responsible for providing legal copies of all media should a reload of their system be required. Students are also responsible for keeping a backup of their data. Creighton does not provide a backup service at this time.

Creighton is an Apple® Authorized Service Provider and a Lenovo warranty center. To prevent voiding your warranty, the Service Desk will not perform hardware repair work on other brands, but will direct you to the closest authorized service outlet.

Creighton does not recommend one Windows service provider over another, but has arranged a discount with ARN Networks. See arnnetworks.com for more information.

CreightonAlert:

CreightonAlert is a campus-wide emergency notification system that provides safety-related announcements.

Your Creighton email address is used by default. If you wish to receive alerts through other means or via additional email addresses, register online and provide your contact information at creighton.edu/CUalert. Family members may also subscribe.

Reinert-Alumni Memorial Library

The Reinert-Alumni Memorial Library, located in the heart of campus, is proud to serve all undergraduate students. The library provides a wide variety of services and resources to help you succeed.

Spinning your wheels on Google? Need to find a “scholarly” article? Don’t know how to cite a source correctly? Expert help is available from the Research Center team on a drop-in basis or via live chat, phone and email. You can also schedule a one-on-one consultation with a subject librarian through the Research Assistance Program. A “RAP session” will save you time and stress.

Besides 400,000 books and journals on the library shelves, the library offers thousands of e-books, e-journals and information databases, in addition to streaming videos. These electronic resources cover all fields of study and are available 24/7 from anywhere you have access to the web.

The library provides comfortable study spaces for students (which are reservable online), plus computers, printing and scanning, multimedia stations and 3D printing services.

Additionally, technology is available for checkout, including video and GoPro cameras, microphones, Rocketbooks, Oculus Go sets and a portable green screen with lights. And if you forget your Macbook, iPhone or Android phone charger, you can check one out for the day.

When you just need a break, access movies, music, audiobooks and paperbacks to help you decompress.

Schlegel Center for Service and Justice

The John P. Schlegel, SJ, Center for Service and Justice seeks to spark passion for truth and justice and nourish courage and lives of commitment. The SCSJ engages students in community service, reflection and action on behalf of justice and sustainability as an integral part of their Jesuit, Catholic university education. Visit the SCSJ in Lower Becker Hall, or contact scsj@creighton.edu or 402.280.1290.

Weekly Service

A majority of incoming students have had some form of community service experience in high school. The SCSJ helps continue that commitment to service and build new relationships as students enter the Creighton and Omaha communities. Partnerships with a number of sites around the metro area provide students an opportunity to drop in for one-time or consistent volunteer experiences each week. If your interests are beyond the sites offered, the SCSJ can work with you to find the right fit.

Service and Justice Trips

Faculty, staff and students consistently say that going on a Service and Justice Trip is one thing that everyone should do before graduation. Why not go right away? Each fall and spring break, hundreds of students travel across the country to serve and learn on half- and full-week Service and Justice Trips. Whether you're working with people experiencing homelessness in Cleveland, learning about mountaintop removal in West Virginia or providing hurricane relief in New Orleans, you'll find opportunities for all service passions.

Ignatian Advocacy

The SCSJ also enhances passions for making the world a better place by introducing students to others who have similar hopes and dreams for the world. Students consistently meet with local, state and national leaders to advocate for and learn about policy reform on several key justice issues.

Interested in the SCSJ?

If you have questions or would like more information, please email Jeff Peak at jeffpeak@creighton.edu regarding Service & Justice Trips, Kelly Tadeo Orbik at kellytadeoorbik@creighton.edu regarding Ignatian Advocacy or Becca Huju at beccahuju@creighton.edu regarding Weekly Service.

The Office of Student Employment Office provides support as you navigate the process of finding on-campus employment. Part-time student workers play an important role in helping departments on campus carry out their daily work. Each year, more than 2,500 Creighton students help meet their educational expenses by working both through Federal Work Study and University-funded employment. Student employees serve in a wide variety of positions from intramural sports referees to health lab research assistants.

The Office of Student Employment connects students to employment opportunities on campus primarily through Handshake. Handshake is Creighton University's online career management system that offers many benefits including a search function for on-campus student employment, a mobile-friendly interface and a personalized experience for students and employers to connect for opportunities. Additionally, some on-campus jobs are filled by word-of-mouth, so you should also contact departments of interest directly.

Federal Work-Study

Federal Work-Study (FWS) provides part-time jobs for students with financial need, allowing them to earn money to help pay education expenses. Eligibility is based on your FAFSA results.

- If Federal Work-Study is listed as part of your financial aid offer, you'll need to:
1. Accept your financial aid offer of FWS in your NEST.
  2. Submit your FWS agreement.
  3. Apply for your preferred job(s) on Handshake
  4. Complete the Online Federal Employment Eligibility Verification form (I-9).
  5. Report in person to the Office of Student Employment to have your I-9 verified.

Federal I-9 Employment Eligibility Verification Form

Federal law requires that you complete the I-9 Employment Eligibility Verification form before working. The I-9 must be completed in person and requires proof of eligibility to work in the United States This must be an ORIGINAL document, so be sure to bring your passport, Social Security card or birth certificate when you come to campus. Photocopies or documents sent via email or fax may not be used. Students cannot work until this process is completed.

Study Abroad and Find your Place in the World

In keeping with Creighton’s mission to equip students to live and engage in a globalizing world, the Global Engagement Office (GEO) offers a variety of study abroad opportunities for students to expand their skills and gain new perspectives on their career in a new country, culture and environment. Programs abroad vary in course offerings, length and cost. Through the GEO, students work with a global programs coordinator to select a program that fits their academic, financial and personal needs. For more information, send an email to studyabroadadvisor@creighton.edu.

When do Creighton students study abroad?

Students may study abroad for a full academic year, a fall semester, a spring semester or a few weeks during the summer. Choosing the best time to study abroad will depend upon your major, academic plan and other activities in which you are involved. Most Creighton students choose to study abroad during their sophomore or junior year. The global programs coordinators and your academic advisor can help you determine the best time for you to study abroad. Pre-med students should speak with the EDGE Pre-Health Advisors to determine what term would be the best time for them to study abroad.

How does financial aid transfer?

The portability of financial aid depends upon the type of program. Some programs allow portability of both Creighton and federal financial aid, while other programs allow portability of only federal financial aid. The global programs coordinators and the Creighton Financial Aid Office will assist you in choosing a program that meets your financial needs.

It is designed to immerse select students in a variety of cultures for a rich academic, social and service experience. Students build networks with other students, faculty and alumni from around the world.

Through language study, specialized coursework, service-learning, research, internships and interaction with leaders in the global community, Creighton Global Scholars will become experienced global citizens, ready for employment in international organizations upon graduation.

International Student and Scholar Services

Creighton University is home to a diverse population with representation from countries all around the globe. ISSS serves all international students and scholars and their families.

GEO is proud to offer Global Ambassador Program, which is a mentorship program created by ISSS, the SLIC, and the CIC, in which current Creighton students (either domestic or international) are assigned to incoming international students to assist as a friend and resource in their acclimation process.

Ambassadors attend both social and academic workshops with the new students, as well as off-campus excursions in Omaha. This program is rooted in experiential discovery. By breaking down barriers, students learn from one another.

Investigative Process

The Office of Equity and Inclusion investigates incidents under the University's Harassment, Discrimination and Sexual and Relationship Misconduct Policy. Incidents are resolved through formal and informal processes by trained investigators. Investigations are thorough, prompt and equitable. All parties have the ability to present evidence, provide witness and have an advisor of choice. For more information, please visit creighton.edu/oei.

If you would like to speak to someone confidentially regarding a situation, please contact the Violence Intervention and Prevention Center (vipcenter@creighton.edu) or Student Counseling Services on campus.

Violence Intervention and Prevention (VIP) Center

The VIP Center provides confidential advocacy to first- and second-hand survivors of sexual violence, dating violence, stalking, harassment, discrimination and more. An advocate is someone who will provide one-on-one individualized support to individuals. These services are free, confidential and available to all students. Individual advocacy can include the following:

- Support after an incident of violence
- Safety planning
- Assistance with class absences, coursework extensions and housing
- Assistance with reporting incidents, both on and off campus
- Assistance filing Protection Orders
- Resources to assist a friend, partner or family member
- Campus and community referrals

Prevention Education

Creighton's violence prevention program, Green Dot, is a nationally recognized program focused on reducing incidents of power-based personal violence. Green Dot challenges each participant to take a proactive stance against violence and provides individuals with a variety of options to make the community safer, both directly and indirectly. A Green Dot is a moment in time when someone makes the decision to do something in a potentially high-risk situation. This could be a small or large action, but it's the decision to act that makes a difference.

The VIP Center also offers trainings, workshops and programs on the topics of dating violence, healthy relationships, sexual violence, consent and stalking.

Violence. Intervention. Prevention.

During the month of April, the VIP Center hosts Denim Day and Take Back the Night to raise awareness about sexual violence and provide a safe space for survivors to tell their stories of victimization and survival to the larger Creighton community.

Public Safety

Contact:
Schneider Building
2222 Burt St.
Business phone: 402.280.2104
Emergency phone: 402.280.2911

Overview

The Department of Public Safety, which reports to the Office of the Executive Vice President, is responsible for campus safety and security. The department operates 24 hours a day, seven days a week, from its headquarters facility at 2222 Burt Street. Public Safety is a private armed security force, with three shifts of officers who receive a variety of specialized training that includes first aid, CPR and the use of firearms.

The department includes the senior director, associate director, community outreach officer, clery compliance officer, emergency manager and parking administrator, plus three shift supervisors, 21 patrol officers, three full-time dispatchers, three part-time dispatchers and a parking attendant.

Emergency Notification System (CreightonAlert)

Today, more than ever, we must be prepared for situations that we could never have anticipated happening and recognize that immediate communication is critical to keep students, faculty and staff well-informed. Effective emergency response requires personal preparedness and training.

A key element of Creighton's comprehensive crisis plan is a multi-channel communication system called CreightonAlert. That system allows us to keep the Creighton community informed either in the classroom, in the residence halls and while you are using your computer or cell phone.

It is important to register for this service and to update information if any of your contact information has changed. Simply visit creighton.edu/cualert and follow the instructions.

Crime Prevention

Public Safety maintains that the more effective strategy is to prevent rather than to solve crimes. To that end, the department devotes a significant portion of its resources to crime prevention:

- Officers patrol the campus on foot, on bicycles and in vehicles 24 hours a day. Always on the alert for potential problems, officers provide a first line of defense with an intercept capability and a visible deterrence.
- Over 400 surveillance cameras monitor and record activity across the campus and serve as visible deterrents to crime. In 2017, an upgrade to the Public Safety dispatch center dramatically increased the department's ability to proactively monitor activity across the campus.
- Electronic card access systems are employed in a number of buildings on campus. These electronic access systems afford an extra measure of security in their flexibility and control.
- In 2017, the University also launched an important initiative to offer faculty, staff and students with a personal mobile safety device as an enhancement to our campus safety environment. This Bluetooth-enabled device pairs with a smartphone app to allow any user on campus to immediately summon assistance to an exact geographic location. When activated, the device places an emergency phone call to either the campus Public Safety dispatcher or to the local 911 dispatcher. It also transmits the user's exact geolocation and personal profile to the campus Public Safety dispatcher. Activated with three clicks of a button, this device eliminates the need to carry a phone in hand, to remove gloves or to unlock the phone to make a call. Learn more at creighton.edu/admin/publicsafety/pom.

- A campus shuttle service provides students and University employees with safe and convenient transportation to most sites on campus up to 20 hours each day. Two shuttle buses run concurrently to link all corners of the campus with most destinations in between. A third shuttle provides service to commuters parking along the Burt Street Corridor. A free campus taxi service (JayRide) operates between 9 p.m. and 2 a.m.
- A pedestrian escort service is available to all campus members upon request. Public Safety Officers will accompany pedestrians to their residence halls, parked cars or other campus destinations anytime someone is apprehensive about walking alone.
- Blue light emergency phones are located strategically throughout the campus, particularly in parking lots. They enable one to activate a single emergency button on the phone panel to be in instant contact with the Public Safety dispatcher.
- A full-time community outreach officer makes presentations and develops programs designed to inform campus members about the threat of crime and the prevention resources available to them.

Parking on Campus

All vehicles parked on property that is owned or leased by Creighton University must display a current University parking permit in the lower-right corner of the front windshield. Displaying a permit allows you to leave a vehicle in a parking stall, as space is available, but does not guarantee the availability of a stall. University ID cards and parking permits are required for all garages.

During normal business hours, students may only park in student lots. However, in the interest of safety, students with valid permits may also park in faculty/staff lots from 4 p.m. to 6 a.m., Monday through Friday and any time on weekends. Students are not allowed to park in faculty/staff lots during breaks or student holidays. Vehicles parked without valid permits or in violation are subject to sanctions, including fines, registration holds, vehicle immobilization, towing, disciplinary actions or revocation of campus parking privileges.

For more information regarding parking, please visit creighton.edu/admin/publicsafety/parkinginformation.
